Cold Snap Broken.

Washington, Feb. 17.—The backbone of the cold snap which has held the east in a grip of discomfort and shiffering for the last three days, is about to be broken.

The agency of relief comes from the British northwest and according to weather sharps is known as a depression pushing and rolling the cold back southeastward. It already has caused rising temperatures in the Missouri, Mississipoi and lower Ohio valleys and by tomorrow its warming influence will be chasing Jack Frost out to sea at the Atlantic coast.

Madison, Wis, Feb. 17.—The Wisconsin spur track law, which gives the railroad commission power to order industrial tracks, is being attacked in the federal courts and the case will come up for argument in Washington one week from today. So important has the attorney general's office considered the case that nathough his department is not directly involved, he has asked permission of the court to file a brief.

Denver, Feb. 17. Americans should not celebrate the birthday of Washington and Lincoln separately but should make a joint celebration of both on a day devoted especially to fostering patriotism of America's foreign born citizens. This the point of view of Dr. Clarkson N. Guyer, who is responsible for the inauguration of such a celebration here on the evening of Feb. 20. This will be the first celebration of the kind in the United States and its promoters hope that it will be followed by similar observances in other American cities next year. Governor Elias M. # GOVERNMENT DEFECT CAUSES HIGH TAXES

ADAMS CRITICISES PRESENT SYSTEM AS RESPON-SIBLE FOR EXTRAVAGANCE.

HAUGEN OFFERS HOPE

Says State Taxes Will be Less Next Year But His Co-Workers Promises No Permanent Relief.

Promises No Permanent Relief.

Further exposition of the tax situation in Wisconsin, this time by two members of the state tax commission who spent Monday in Janesville, Nils P. Haugen and Prof. T. S. Adams, was enjoyed at the monthly meeting of the Congregational brotherhood following the banquet at the church parlors last evening.

Both of the speakers admitted that taxes are higher in Wisconsin this year than in the past and Mr. Haugen pointed to several important reasons for this touching especially on the mill tax for school purposes and the highway tax. Prof. Adams on the other hand, harassed somewhat by several questions slightly controversial in nature, was inclined to launch forth in an attack on some of the present critics who are raising the cry on high taxation in the state and to charge them with superficiality and undue wisapprehension.

Blames Present System.

It was perhaps pardonable that Prof. Adams became somewhat excited under the circumtsances, and where he might otherwise have been clear in his statements, he actually achieved very little in the way of real explanation on several matters which Mr. Haugen had, however, touched upon in his remarks.

One vital thing which no one failed to understand from Prof. Adams' semarks was that the present high cost of government, if it is wrong in any particular, is not due to graft, or gross mismanagement on the part of a state administration, or mere loufing on the part of state employes but to defects deep rooted in our system of government which allow the shifting of responsibility all along the line, it is the cumbersome system of checks and balances permitting this department and that employe or that official to "pass the buck" which makes it impossible to achieve economy and absolute efficiency, according to Prof. Adams' contention.

"This trouble is deep down in the American system of government,"

This trouble is deep down in the "This trouble is deep down in the American system of government," said the speaker. "We have had these irritations, and criticisms and faultifiadness on the matter of taxation hundreds of times in the past, and the reason is plain because if you do not give your public servants responsibility and a certain amount of latitude and freedom, but set one to watch the other, and some one tise to watch the other two, no amount of the commizing here and there, cutting

For the immediate future Mr. Haugen felt inclined to offer encouragement and believed that next year state taxes would not be so high. Mr. Haugen urged that taxation was not a matter of dollars and cents. It is a question of what the public receives for its money. The demand for better governmental service, for more kinds of services, not only from the state but from the counties, cities, townships and yillages, all over Wisconsin, is responsible for greater expense. # QUESTION ASKED BY MADISON ATTORNEY

T. C. HICHMOND WANTS TO KNOW WHY WE NEED SO MUCH

PLAIN FACTS STATED

Capitol City is Right to the

was at least such as might reasonably have been expected of those possessing human weaknesses and subject to many temptations.

Now all this is changed.

And what a change!

The people are no longer trusted to manage their own affairs. They are not permitted to make their own assessments, to levy their own taxes, to seek and get employment when and where they wish, to establish, manage and extend public utilities, to employ labor, to make contracts as to wages—in short, to manage and direct their own business as free, intelligent, self-respecting people ought to do. Laborers are all under suspicion. Real domocracy is gone. Bureaucrach first titled its place, and the spies, inquisitors, agents; inspectors, representatives of these bureaus are abroad in the land, almost as numerous, and occasionally as oftensive, as the frogs of Egypt.

The fact is, the people lave lost their power, and now they are rapidly losing their property by high taxation. When the commissions control in so many, fields of industrial activity, what becomes of the theory that we are a self-governing, people? When from 20 to 50 per cent of the net income from property is taken in taxes, what can we say as to the rights of property? If these restrictions and burdens are laid upon us in time of peace, what may we expect in time of trouble or of great national calamity? Every promise made to the present condition of things has been broken. When the railroad rate commission was first established it was for the purpose of righting then existing wrongs in railroad management, and protecting the people in their dealings with those great corporations. The official force required to do that was limited but sufficient, and the expense annually $25,000 to $30,000. Since that time the power of this commission has grown beyond the wildest dreams of its founders, until now it controls all public utilities. Pas hundreds of names on its the wildest dreams of its founders until now it controls all public util or this commission has grown beyond the wildest dreams of its founders, until now it controls all public utilities, has hundreds of names on its pay roll, and costs the people not far from $200,000 a year. The same may be said, in substance of the tax commission, a body whose services can easily be dispensed with and whose operations this past year have called forth the most indignant protest ever voiced by Wisconsin manhood.

Reaching for More.

The growth of the industrial commission tells the same story—reaching out after more—constant increase of expense. All along the line the policy adopted has been, and now is less hower in the people, more power for the commissions and increased faxation. A few years ago the people were assured that, with the increase of railroad taxes and the large state receipts, from the insurance companies and also from the insurance companies and also from the income tax, the farmers and small property owners in the city would pay less taxes in the future. Again disappointment, keen and bitter, has come. True, more money has come in from the railroads, the insurance companies and the income tax, but it is also true that hever before in the history of the state have the farmers and small property holders in the cities been called upon for so large contributions for public purposes.

take the place of either the legislature or the courts, and yet they have reached out after, grasped, and are now exercising, power in part legislative and in part judicial.

Apologies and Excuses.

Siene thi people began to be heard from in regard to the multiplication of commissions and the increase of taxation, we hear every day from those now in poter, excuses, answers, apologies—anything to calm the present excitement and quiet the indignation so generally expressed. It is said, admitting that the taxes are higher, that we take more money from the people, the dollar is not as valuating that the people, the dollar is not as valuation. higher, that we take more money from the people, the dollar is not as valuable: as it was; the dollar has lost much of its purchasing power and, although the taxes seem to be higher, they really are not higher because of the fact that a dollar now will not purchase as much as it would purchase five or ten years ago. This answer or excuse is somewhat amusing, to say the least. In some cases the taxes this year are anywhere from 25 chase five or ten years ago. This answer or excuse is somewhat amusing, to say the least. In some cases the taxes this year are anywhere from 25 to 100 per cent greater than last year. Do the apologists for the present system of money has in that time depreciated 25 to 50 per cent? Again, it is not so many years since such an argument would have been ridiculed by financiers and economists in this city. Indeed, the quantitative theory for money was rejected by them as the rankest political and economic heresy. But let that pass.

We are also told that the greater part of the taxes is pald by railroad companies, insurance companies and other corporations. For the sake of the argument, admit it. Are the railroad companies charitable institutions? Are insurance companies or other corporations eleemosynary institutions? Do these great corporations make gifts of these large amounts of money to the state? Or, are they simply agencies of the state through whom, and by whom, money is taken from the people and paid over to the state? Candor compels the admission that it matters not through what agency money reaches the public treasury, whether it be the town, county or state treasury, it all comes from the people.

Misleading Attempt.

We are also told, in an attempt to minimize the expense of the commissions, that they receive only from five to eight cents out of every hundred dollars of a part of the taxes paid into the state treasury. This is only an attempt to mislead and to cover up the facts as they are. The last legislature appropriated for the use of the tax commission approximately $180,000 a year for the next two years, a still larger amount for the use of the tax commission approximately $180,000 a year for the industrial commission. These are the facts. The money has been appropriated by the legislature, will be used by the commissions, and the dustrial commission. These are the facts. The money has been appropriated by the legislature, will be used by the commissions, and the people will pay the bills.

Dictorial Methods.

It should be stated here that, beavy and grievous as are the financial burdens laid on the people under the dens laid on the people under gens and on the people under the present system of government in this state, the real humiliation comes from the fact that so large an amount of power has been taken from the people and vested in the state commissions. In some cases orders are sent to convenienting agestors. sions. In some cases orders are out to conscientious assessors, who cut to conscientious assessors, who are doing or have done, as they be lieve, their full cuty under their oaths as officials, to raise assessments of towns or cities hundreds of thousands, or even millions, of dollars under threat of reassessment of all property in town or city, or removal of the assessor from office.

Again, orders are issued to the people of a city that they must pay a certain price for the benefit or benefits of a certain public utility, and to the owners of that public utility that they must render the service, or furnish the article in question for such a price as is fixed by this third party.

But we need not multiply instances like the above. Indeed, we may be pardoned for asking whether Wisconsil, instead of being a model state, as the advocates of the present system now so loudly proclaim, is not a horrible example of the evils resulting from bureaucracy, misgovernment and evitaveance.

On the whole, we may safely say, in view of the foregoing, that democracy in Wisconsin has not been well

TALIAN DUKE WEDS AMERICAN HEIRESS AFTER YACHT ROMANCE

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE,] New York, Feb. 17.—The "ideal marriage" of the Duke Don Arturo de Durrazzo, 24 to Miss Elizabeth Frances Hanan, 504, sister of John H. Hanan, took place today at the bride's home at 1073 Fifth avenue. The duke home at 1073 Fifth avenue. The duke comes of an Italian family recorded in "The Book of Gold of the Nobility of Italy" His family dates back to 1272. Its history is replete with romantic facts in the histories of the famous old Italian cities of Capua, Foggia, Lucera, Catanzaro, Venice, Naples and Rome. The father of the duke, Marquis Francesco Demiao Durrazzo, has been dead two years. The romance consummated today began two years ago on board the Hanan yacht in the Meditteranean, when the duke was a guest of Hanan He had begun a philanthropic move-

Bauman has a wide reputation as a slugger, having a kick in either fist, that has put a long list of ambitious boxers in the knock-out column. Being a fighter that would not back up an inch and drilling in on the Bat Noison style, he should make Schaffer resort to all his cleverness and best wallops, to stay that sleep producing wallop that he is so handy with. Both of these men have plenty of following and a good crowd of Chicago and Milwaukee fans will undoubtedly be present when they exchange blows.

Milton High School, Saturday.

[ay Associated Press.]

Milton, Feb. 16—Playing evenly except when the Milton high school basketball team showed a sensation- al burst of speed toward the close of the game, the home five and the Fort: Akkinson high school team battled in the closest game of the season at the college gym on Saturday night. Star playing by Lamphere nosed out a vicility for Milton by a 34 to 31 score. The playing was fast and snapyy from start to finish. At no time was there a difference of more than five points in the lead. The "Fort" held the lead a part of the time in the first half, but the Milton boys took a brace just at the close of the half and when the whistle blew, the score stood 15 to 14 in favor of the home team.

The second half was even more hotly contested. The Orange and Black team held the lead already gained until the finish, but at no time by more than three points. The final score stood 31 to 34 Captain anphere of Milton high school team scored 10 out of 12 chances at free throws:

APOLLO VAUDEVILLE,

Bringing with them the spirit of the west, Allen's original Cowboy Minstrels made their first appearance at the Apollo yesterday and entertained their audiences with novel songs and clever witticisms. Thee consists of three men and a young lady, all costumed in true cowboy style from leather chaps to broad hats. They were good because they were different.

Gary O'Reilly, the blarny fiddler, played his way into the hearts of all with his Irish airs and music. He is an unusually good violinist and is as Irish as the songs he plays.

Tonight will be presented "The House of Mystery," a photoplay in four parts telling a detective story with thrills and sensations, narrow escapes and tragic scenes. It is beautifully hand colored and is one of the latest features out. There is not an uninteresting scene in the play. It deals with a band of robbers who prey on an old man and his son's widow and child whom he is trying to reunite. It will be shown tonight and Wednesday.

Janesville has heard from Prof Adams on the high cost of Wisconsin government. But instead of sounding a note of optimism, or promising any sort of relief, or offering an adequate solution for the present high taxa-tion, Prof. Adams declared that high taxes were here to stay; that they could not be cut down by economy in this or that department, or by cutting out this or that expense; that a change in state administration will not accomplish the desired result. Prof. Adams advanced the somewhat startling proposition that the system present democratic administra fault; he complained of the cumbersome system of checks and balances which takes away responsibility from

Prof. Adams was asked what he would suggest as a remedy. One would expect that he would have many forms of legislation they should would expect that he would have put their foot down on firmly and steadfastly. Including in this it names the following:

DENVER CITIZENS WILL VOTE ON BOND ISSUE FOR BAILROAD LOAN

FOR RAILROAD LOAN

ISPETAL TO THE GAZETTE. I

Denver, Feb. 17.—Whether the city of Denver shall grant to the Denver Union Water company a twenty-year franchise and vote $3,000,000 in bonds to be loaned to the Denver & Salt Lake railroad for building the Moffat tunnel through James. Peak are the two important issues at a special election being held here today. The water company franchise is contained in a proposition fostered by the Denver Retail Association as a settlement of the long standing controversy over the acquisition of the water plant by the city. A bitter campaign on this question has preceded the election.

The Moffat tunnel proposition provides for a $3,000,000 loan to the railroad on the provision that the road will add $1,500,000 to that sum for building the tunnel and guarantee repayment of the city's Ioan. In addition, there will be retained on the ballot a charter amendment providing for a bi-monthly pay day for city employes, who are now paid once a month, and for an increase in the running time of local improvement bonds. Cidzens will vote on five questions.

RETAIL MARKET.

Due to the raise in Elgin price, butter in Janesville jumped to thirty-flour and thirty-five cents this morning and it is not expected to come down for some weeks as the recent cold weather has afforded the butter men a chance to give a reason for boosting the price. Eggs still remained at the last week's figure, bringing from thirty to thirtytwo cents per dozen.

BELGIAN KING SUFFERS A FRACTURED ARM WHEN THROWN FROM HIS HORSE

THROWN FROM HIS HORSE

IBY ASSOCIATED PRESE.

Brussels, Belgium, Feb. 17.—Albert the first, king of Belgium, broke his left arm when thrown from a horse while riding in the forest of Seigneis not far from the historic battle field of Waterloo. His majesty escaped without serious injuries.

The king's physician allayed any onxiety for his recovery by a bulletin describing the injuries and declared there were no grounds for fears that anything serious would ensue from the accident, as the King's general health is good and he is a young man. King Albert first is thirty-eight years old. He succeeded his uncle, Leopold on December 17th, 1909. He married Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria in 1900 and the royal couple have three children.

"You're wrong," she said. "I used to think that love always flew ester since I knew the Gleasons, those dear old people I boarded with last they are been as poor as church mice all their lives, and they're and yet I can see they love each other just as much as any young lovers.

"And they are heavy tree in suits of eventhing. It and all kinds of other troubles, sickness and loss and interring relatives, and yet I can see they love each other just as much as any young lovers.

"And they are happy, too, in spite of everything. I can tell you it's been a great lesson to me in the meaning of love to have lived with them."

Can you imagine a finer tribute than that which this woman paid her two old friends?

I cannot. For in her defence of the power of love inspired by them she proved these people philanthrop pists of the very highest order.

To give a library, a hospital, a college, or any other costly and beneficent institution is recognized as a great philanthropy; and, the world rings with the giver's name and his praises.

But to give the world the inspiration of a life worth while,—is not that a far greater philanthropy?

Not long ago I took a beautiful trip over some thousand miles of country. I saw many new and wonderful sights, but I think the greatest event of my whole journey was that I met a man in the finest, fullest sense of that word.

The wonderful fact that here was a man who was successful in the world's use of that word, and yet also successful in the higher, ethical sets considered everything else to fee.

Personality is a tremendous force. In our love for system and organization and costly buildings, and vast philantropies, we are apt to forget how tremendous and how important. "An institution is the lengthened shadow of one man." Give us more men and we can get along with fewer institutions. The world needs the kind of lives that will make us believe in the world, here is the index of worthwhile things, the kind of men and women who menonscously keep life sweet" more than it needs anything else in the world.

If you love your fellowmen and women with a love that makes you sad

If you love your fellowmen and women with a love that makes you sad breause you cannot give them some great and costly gift like a library or a hospital, do not be sad and discouraged any longer, Give them a greater gift. Give them a life.

How to Make the Best Cough Remedy at Home

A Family Supply at Small Cost, and Fully Guaranteed.

Make a plain syrup by mixing one pint of granulated sugar and ½ pint of warm water and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2½ ounces of pure Pinex (fifty tents' worth) in a pint bottle, and fill it up with the Sugar Syrup. This gives you a family supply of the best cough syrup at a saving of $2. It never spoils. Take a tenspoonful every one, two or three hours.

The effectiveness of this simple remedy is surprising. It seems to take hold also instantly, and will usually conquer an ordinary cough in 24 hours. It lones up the jaded appetite and is list laxative enough to be helpful in a cough, and has a pleasing taste. Also excellent for bronchial trouble, pronchial asthma, whooping cough and spasmodic croup.

BELLEVE if we had a larger conception of our possibilities, a larger faith in ourselves, we could accomplish infinitely more. And if we only understood our divinity, we would have larger faith. There is no inferiority about the man that God made. The only inferiority is what we put in ourselves. What God made is perfect. —Marden.

SYMPOSIUM ON BREAD MAKING.

To have good results in bread makng, one must have good yeast, the right temperature and careful hand-

If one uses the dry yeast, add one cake to a pint of potato water and a cup of mashed potatoes, a tablespoon ful of sugar and a little flour, enough to make a thin batter. Set away to rise from noon until night, then set the bread, using a half a cup for three loaves of bread. This yeast will keep until it is all used, if kept in a cool place. Salt is added when the bread sponge is set. Knead the bread into a stiff loaf at night, then in the morn

Did you ever go through any of our prisons? A goodly number of our voters are there, or men who were voters; some of them left wives, most of them mothers and sisters, and when the huge iron door of the prison clanged shut raising a barrier taixit the world and them, causing them to pay dearly for some misdeed of theirs.

We are not going to raise a maudlin wail over the men in our prisons. The most of us get what is coming to us right here in this world, even too slow. If every man who is in the mills of justihe grind altogether too slow. If every man who is in prison had had the wisdom to have kept the law of his country (for to be good is really a superior brand of wisdom) and was a citizen with a vote, supporting a wife and family, there would not be so many women holding down positions that you might say was a man's job.

From most every corner of this great land of ours arises the sound of some discontented mortal who rises to mournfully prophesy that the women are taking the men's jobs. If some of these people would themselves brace up and take a man's place in the world they'd find that at least one of this vast amy of women would

Recovered from Lung Trouble—Now Insured

Insurance companies will not accept any one affected with Ling Trouble. When you know a man who has been arilleted and who hater has been insured, such action means that the policy-holder must be in a very good state of health. Cases have been reported when Lung Sufferers, after taking Eckman's Alterative, a remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles, have successfully passed the medical test of insurance companies. Rend this case:

I was troubled with night sweats, a severy cough and was very weak; having, in fact, absolutely no ambition whatever. About this time I consuited a physician, who told me my lungs were affected. Not satisfied I went to another doctor, who, after examining me, said that I was in the first stages of Lung Trouble. At this point I started to take Eckman's Alterative. The night sweats stopped almost immediately, my coush became losser and gradually disappeared. My weight is now 142 pounds and my physician has promaunced me perfectly sound—which, together with the fact that I have just been accepted by two different insurance companies for insurance, makes me sure of my entire recovery by Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious, Rronchids. The girl's face flushed for an instant and then grew pale again. "I will tell you the truth," she said.

"My name is Hetty Castleton. My father is Col. Braid Castleton of the British army. My mother is dead. She was Kitty Glynn, at one time a popular music hall performer in London. She was Irish. even now I believe it."

"I have no doubt of it," said Mrs.
Wrandall calmly, "You are very pretty—and charming."

"I—I did not know that he had a wife until—well, until—" She could not go on.

"Night before last."

The girl shuddered. Mrs. Wrandall turned her face away and waited.

"There is nothing more I can tell shows the said Mrs. Wrandall the engine tender," politically replied the resourceful guide.

you, unless you permit me to tell all,"
the girl resumed after a moment of hesitation.

Mrs. Wrandall arose.

"I have heard enough. This afternoon I will send my butler with you to the lodging house in Nineteenth street. He will attend to the removal of your personal effects to my house."

A well known lawyer had a horse that always stopped and refused to cross the bridge leading out of the cross without stopping. So he advertised him:
"To be sold, for no other reason than that the owner wants to go out of town."

"I don't see," said Mrs. Pozozzie, "why it is said of a homely woman that her face would 'stop a clock.' I know women whose faces would cause sheer fright

Nurse Proclaims Skin Cure

Myrtle Hahn Says B. D. D. Prescription is Worth Rockefeller's Millions to Her.

"Ten years I suffered with eczema athree years of that time I could not appear in public. My entire body was covered with the disease. I could not eat. I could not aleep. I could not live. I have at last found the great Prescription D. D. D. My body is clean, amooth. If there were one bottle only of D. D. D. in the world and I had it. Mr. Rockefeller's millions could not buy the golden fluid."

Nurse Myrtle Hahn (in care Watts' Hospital, Durham, N. C.) How about you? How about you?

If you have any skin blemish or a little rash, do not let it develop into something more serious. Remember
D. D. D. Prescription has been recognized for fifteen years as the standard skin remedy. It always helps, and if used according to directions, it should cure in a short while.

All druggists sell this standard remedy, but if you come to us, we will offer you the first full size bottle with the guarantee that unless it stops the itch at one-e we will refund the purchase price.

Ask also about D. D. skin soap, containing the same healing ingredients. It keeps the skin siways clean and healthy.

Want Ad. Results

"Last year I bought a canary," said a little woman to her neighbor the other day. "Then I happened to have a bright idea. As bright ideas were the exception, not the rule with me I decided to follow this particular idea up. I purchased a mate for my canary and started a canary farm. I won't trouble you with details, for it was up hill work, but I was persistent, and I am fifty-two dollars richer on account of my canary farm. I also have had the experience, pleasure (for it was pleasure to care for the birds) and knowledge that I did not possess a year ago.'

"How did I sell them? Why through the want ad columns of my home paper of course. I'd never attempt to dispose of them without advertising. My advertising has disposed of my birds and also given me a place in the eyes of the public as a dealer in birds.

Stop That Cough in A Minute

Would you give morphine or chicroform to your baby or take it yourself. Of course not. Yet most patent cough cures contain one or both. They stop a cough in a minute, which is dangerous. A cough should be cured internally by healing the lungs, loosening the phlegm, throwing it out, which is done by coughing. Badger Cough Ealsam does not contain morphine or chloroform. It is made by perculation from bloodroot, lobelia, perculation from bloodroot, lobelia, perculation from bloodroot, lobelia, pine bark, wild cherry, etc. It cures a cough in a few days without filling the lungs with poisonous phlegmi. The irritation is relieved, the lungs healed without danger of pneumonia. It's safe for children or old people. Get a bottle today for 25 cents. Eadger Cough Balsam is made by Mr. Pfennig our Graduate Pharmacks and nig, our Graduate Pharmacist and Chemist. Badger Drug Co., Milwaukee and River Sts.
